She has also worked with many performers on a variety of television and award winning engagements.

From as far back as Maureen can recall, she has been fascinated with beauty, especially makeup! So it comes as no surprise that early on in her career she was engaged in the launch of several very successful cosmetic lines.

Over the years, Maureen has remained committed to enhancing the natural beauty of each individual so they look and feel special without a sense of being overly "made-up."

Maureen's beauty mantra is: "Only by nurturing your inner beauty, can your outer beauty truly radiate." Her commitment to this mantra is evident in her work.
